HONGKONG, 12th AUGUST, 1904.

DR. JAMES CANTLIE, M.A., M.B., D.P.H., whom many will remember as a practitioner in Hongkong, has written a long article in the London Daily Chronicle, entitled "Are we degenerating? The physical state of the English people and some remedies." He broached the subject as long ago as 1885, in a lecture on "Degeneration amongst Londoners," and his latest comments are to the effect that the degeneracy, then noticed, has spread among the rural population. In this article, Dr. CANTLIE confines himself to physical deterioration, and mentions as the principal causes the quality of food and air consumed by the majority of our countrymen. Therein he has not gone far astray; but he attaches, in our opinion, a false emphasis to the fact that so much of our national food is imported from abroad. He also overestimates, we think, a fact that is none the less true, that the "tied house system" applied to dairies (milkmen contracting to send all their product to town) has made good milk harder to get for poor children in the country. On the question of fresh air, Dr. CANTLIE touches the inner secret of the trouble, if somewhat unphilosophically. He was the gentleman who, in November, 1883, was ridiculed by Punch for proposing that country air should be introduced to the cities by pumping it through pipes.

Having thus utilised the Doctor and his article to introduce the topic that is now forcing itself more than ever upon public attention, we may drop both and consider the matter independently. First of all, it must be asked: Is British degeneration an actual fact? When first mooted, it was regarded like the lupus cry of the fable, and denied with some heat. Dismissing the observations of those still living, who profess to have noticed the course of the deterioration, we are bound to attach great importance to evidences like the Army statistics recently published, showing how the standards of stature required from recruits have had to be repeatedly lowered. Granting the existence of a general deterioration, our next move must be to ascertain its cause or causes. It must be premised that the average condition of the race must depend upon the environmental influences brought to bear upon the majority of its members. That is just where we find agreement with Dr. CANTLIE, in his proposition that food and air are the predominating factors in the development of the people, and where we take leave of him to follow the consequences of his deductions on other and surer lines. Dr. CANTLIE considers it important that English people should be nourished with English products. So far as chemical evidence helps us, it does not matter where food comes from, if it be good enough; and we regard the medical gentleman's asseveration that "no imported food can supplant the native products in efficiency" as nonsense. Our own observations have convinced us that the diet of the majority is not wholesome, but that is entirely the fault of the majority. Suitable fare is within their attainment, but they do not elect to take it. Such luxuries as tea, sugar, confectionery, and tinned dainties are now consumed in such wholesale quantities as to be almost entitled to be called staple foods. Why is it? Our theory is so far original that it is bound to be cavilled at. This habit of luxury came in contemporaneously with compulsory and State education; and we say a noticeable shiftlessness ensued upon the cramming of the working classes at the expense of their old-fashioned utilitarian methods. The modern girl of that station, instead of learning to make porridge and bread, absorbs at severe pains to herself the names of the rivers and mountains of South America, and (in later educational times) scientific dress-cutting. The workingman's wife of less than a hundred years ago is an extinct animal. By a quiet sort of phylogenetic process, a new species has evolved which reads fashion papers and "society novelettes," and feeds its husband and children on tea (bally prepared), tinned salmon, bought bread (selected for its whiteness) and bloater paste. MORE, in a famous French book on Traits of Degeneracy, attributed the unhealthy deviations from a sound type to poisoning. In denouncing the widespread use of narcotics and stimulants, however, he did not forget to mention the food question. Food which does not properly serve its own end, that is not so nutritious as it ought to be, is no better than if it were tainted. In the large towns, curiously enough, there is no scarcity of right food. There is a saying at home that the best of everything goes to London. That there is no longer a marked difference between the average physique of the town-mouse and country mouse we may explain by the theory that one gets the best air and the other the best food. For air is of no lesser importance than food. That very doubtful blessing of compulsory education which we have blamed for the deterioration in the diet of the rural masses is likewise responsible for the overcrowding of the towns. Well may our economists and sociologists have raised the cry of "Back to the land." The organic detritus constantly inhaled by the town mouse, the unceasing nervous excitement to which he or she is subjected by town life, both conspire to defeat Nature's aim of a strong and sturdy race. Brains are not of permanent value unless kept in a healthy casket. The well-meaning faddists who two or three generations ago clamoured for a general nurturing of the British brain did not foresee the consequences of the compulsory method on the British body: did not realize, apparently, that the fitness of a nation as a whole depends upon its maintenance of a healthy peasantry that devotes most of its attention to the cult of the body. Water is most valued when the well runs dry. In the present day, when our hewers of wood and tenders of cattle are all running, with Standard VII. certificates in hand, after clerkships and other sedentary and clean-cuff jobs, we have begun to realize that the parent stock, the backbone of the Anglo-Saxon man of brawn and beauty, is not what it was.

There is also another probable cause, which is never mentioned, but which to us appears an obvious forerunner of physical degeneration. If we have assimilated DARWIN properly, we suppose it to be understood that Nature adapts its creatures in due course to its creatures' habits. When man abandoned the practice of swinging himself from branch to branch, and with the weapons of his cunning walked upon the ground, his arms grew shorter and less strong. The broadsword and the hammer kept them until recently fairly muscular, and his chest fairly developed. By "anti-recently" we mean until the universal advent of machinery. It stands to reason that the man who spends his day running round a stuffy engine-shop with an oil-can and a lump of cotton "waste," does not need the physique of his grandfather; nor do his sons begot him grandsons resembling his glorious forebears. The subject is too great for treatment in so short a space. That we have indexed, at any rate, the more probable origins of degeneration is, to us, not a matter of argument. As for possible remedies, the temptation is to cry "Too late! Too late!" Our publicists, who have the subject at heart, may be able even now (we hope) to suggest modifications of the social scheme that, without being too reactionary, may restore at least some of the conditions that made the British the fittest folk in all the world. Such a consummation we devoutly wish to see.

Two fatal plague cases were reported yesterday. Communications between our forces in Lhasa and the end of the wire at Gyantse are being kept up by mounted infantry. Major Pritchard, of the H.K.V.C., kindly notifies us that another open-air concert has been decided upon. Saturday, August 27th, is the date fixed. The marriage of the Hon. Gilbert Rolfe with Margaret Freda Evelyn, younger daughter of Mr. R. C. Antrobus, of 16, Buckingham Palace Gardens (formerly of China), will take place towards the end of August. Sir Matthew Nathan retains his position and seniority as an officer of the corps of Royal Engineers, in which he holds the rank of major, on taking up his duties as Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Hongkong. Messrs Asgaard, Thorson, & Co. have just received a cable from the captain of the s.s. Haldi informing them that she has been refitted. An already reported, she went ashore near Yokkaichi, Japan, on the 10th of last month. The relief of the British garrison at Tientsin are to be composed of the 2nd West Kent Regt. from Ceylon, to replace the 1st Sherwood Foresters; and the 41st Dogras and 47th Sikhs, from India, to replace the 21st and 38th Punjabis. In the House of Lords on the 12th ult., in reply to the Earl of Portsmouth, the Duke of Marlborough admitted that Sir Ernest Blake, one of the Crown Agents, was a company director. He had, however, placed himself in the hands of the Colonial Secretary. The Colonial Secretary has since decided that Sir Ernest Blake must retire from the directorate of the company concerned. Our new treaty with Germany arranges for the reference of disputes of a "judicial or domestic" or such as relate to "the interpretation of existing treaties" to The Hague Tribunal, in the event of diplomacy failing to settle them satisfactorily. It has nothing to do with the most important causes of difference between nations, those which involve the vital interests or the independence or honour of the two contracting Powers, so that its scope is exceedingly limited.

The Royal approval is announced of the following appointments:—Sir Clement Courtney Knollys, K.C.M.G., at present Colonial Secretary of Trinidad and Tobago, to be Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of the Leeward Islands, in succession to Sir Gerald Strickland, appointed to be Governor of Tasmania. Sir Frederick M. Hodgson, K.C.M.G., Governor of Barbados, to be Governor of British Guiana, in succession to Sir James Alexander Swettenham, who has been appointed Governor of Jamaica. In the statue of Sir Thomas Jackson, for Hongkong, the completion of which we recently reported, Sir Thomas is represented in ordinary frock-coat attire, standing in easy posture, and the representation generally, both as to face and figure, is undoubtedly excellent. The monument may be placed in the same locality of Hongkong as that in which was erected the beautiful statue of Queen Victoria, with its fine temple-canopy, for both of which Mr. Raggi is responsible, as he also is for the noble Hongkong statue of the late Governor Sir Arthur Kennedy, in military costume. An action has been raised in the Edinburgh Court of Session to reduce the will of Sheriff Thomas, who was Sheriff of Orkney and Shetland. In his will the late Sheriff ordered that he was to be buried in a wicker coffin and made extraordinary bequests. In his lifetime he used to fine his servants for slight offences. He also fined his cat if it disturbed the peace of the house, and fined himself if he broke the rules which he adopted for his personal guidance. Another curious whim of Sheriff Thomas was to keep a "laughing waitcoat" with elastic sides, which he used to wear at dinner.

In a remarkable article in the Quarterly Review, a "high Russian official" declares that since the Tsar was hypnotized by M. Pobedonostseff he has looked upon himself as a "Slav Messiah," the centre of the world, the peacemaker of mankind, and the torch-bearer of civilisation.

The Sultan of Brunei has already lost five sons as well as a grandson by the small-pox epidemic prevailing there. A telegram to the Straits Times states that on the 2nd inst. it was estimated that about 1,000 persons had died. The epidemic was reported to be spreading to Tutong and Balaif.

A marriage has been arranged, and, says the L. & C. Express of the 15th ult., will take place at an early date, between William Arthur Carruthers Cruickshank, of Hongkong, and Traillait, Dumfries, and Mary (Maymie), elder daughter of the late Deputy Surg.-Gen. John Cruickshank, Inspector-General of Prisons, Bombay Presidency, and Mrs. Cruickshank Bracken House, Walton-on-Thames.

Most of the mail steamers from Europe, remarks the Straits Times, seem to carry their quota of brides to the East, and generally the blushing damsels succeed in reaching their destination without mishap. But who shall say what ordeal the bride who came out on the Polynesian passed through before she reached the arms of her lover here? The bridegroom is a well-known banker in Hongkong, and his bride was coming out by the Prinz Heinrich. Well, there was the experience in the Red Sea and again the mishap at Colombo. The banker, eager to meet his bride, came to Singapore, and procured all the necessary papers for the wedding. He intended to proceed to Penang to meet his fiancée, but when he learned that the German mail's passengers had been transferred to the Polynesian, which like all French mail steamers ignores the great and worthy Settlement in the North, he decided to remain in Singapore. With that idea he made arrangements for having the ceremony carried out here on Monday. But the fates were unpropitious, and here we have a disconsolate bridegroom in Singapore and a loving bride somewhere in mid-ocean when news comes that the Polynesian has broken down, and the licence all ready for the marriage on Monday. Who can picture the scene which ensued when the Polynesian did at last arrive?

TREE FELLING: ANOTHER PROTEST.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."

SIR,—I am very pleased to see that you have brought this matter to the notice of the Public, and trust that one of our energetic members on the Legislative Council will endeavour to get this felling of trees stopped at once. I believe Mr. Dunn has not yet started to fell the trees near Government House or in the vicinity of the Peak Road, which is, I suppose, the reason that more people have not noticed it. Only those who ride or walk over the Wong-mei-cheong Gap and down through Aberdeen village have an idea of what destruction (it cannot be called anything else) has been going on. At home, at any rate in my part of old England, when a landlord starts to fell his largest trees it always means that money must be raised. Let us hope that is not the case in Hongkong.—Yours, etc.,

"AUDI ALTERAM PARTEM."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."

Hongkong, 10th August.

SIR,—I hope you will allow me the medium of your valuable columns to clear any misconceptions which may arise from perusing the details of the "Blasting Case" which was heard at the Magistracy yesterday. Two men were said to have been killed through no covering having been used during blasting, and that the blasting was done on Crown land without a permit. The facts of the case are as follows:—The deceased (and there was only one man killed) had no business there, and he was repeatedly warned, but persisted, in spite of danger flags, gong-sounding, &c., in rushing up the hill as the blasts went off, in order to gather the fragments of rock for selling as broken stones for concreting purposes. He approached as near as nine feet to the rock which killed him. The Naval or Military Authorities might as well be charged if a man chose to commit suicide by making a target of himself at the Rifle Butts. Then as to the permit side of the case. The contractor enquired if one was necessary, but was told that none was required, as the land had been acquired for the Segregation Camp. I think you will agree with me that (like a medal) there are always two sides to a question.—I remain, Yours, etc.,

FAIRPLAY.

THE M.M.S. "POLYNESIEN."

After all, says the Straits Times, it would seem that the damage sustained by the Messageries Maritimes steamer Polynesian was not nearly so grave as had been represented. Naturally it was difficult while the vessel was at sea to make a thorough examination of the cracked shaft which was giving all the trouble, but since the Polynesian entered port it has been possible to ascertain the exact extent of the injury to the shaft. It seems that there is a slanting crack on the bar (which describes a complete circle with every revolution of the machinery), but the crack does not extend throughout the shaft. It will therefore be possible to navigate the vessel to Saigon, reasonable care being taken to prevent a breakdown. The Polynesian has a very large cargo consigned to Saigon, and consequently it has been thought better that she should proceed to the French port, where the passengers will probably be transferred to another of the Co.'s vessels. With that idea he made arrangements for having the ceremony carried out here on Monday. But the fates were unpropitious, and here we have a disconsolate bridegroom in Singapore and a loving bride somewhere in mid-ocean when news comes that the Polynesian has broken down, and the licence all ready for the marriage on Monday. Who can picture the scene which ensued when the Polynesian did at last arrive?

Mr. Balfour pointed out in the House of Commons that the case of the Malacca was the first of the kind that had arisen since the treaty of Paris. The settlement was of the nature of a compromise. Since Russia showed a desire to meet Great Britain's object was to prevent the incident from causing a great strain on the two countries. Mr. Balfour in no wise regretted that we did our best to meet Russia, who had made no impracticable suggestions. We adhere to the opinion that the grounds advanced for sinking the Kaigait Commander, whether true or not, do not justify the act, and we have not abandoned our position in the smallest degree.

WAR ITEMS.

P.M. "KOREA" AND THE RUSSIANS.

The Pacific Mail s.s. Korea arrived at Hongkong from the Pacific Coast yesterday, at 1 p.m. The Vladivostok Squadron, it will be remembered, was waiting for her off the coast of Japan, but she got safely to Yokohama notwithstanding, on the 29th inst., to the great relief of all at that city. She was belogged off the coast of Japan for two days. On the day before she entered Tokyo Bay the Russian fleet was in Sagami Bay, off the entrance to Tokyo Bay. The war vessels must have passed quite close to her. The Russians, it is understood, believed there to be two submarines on board, besides foodstuffs. The Company's agents at Japan did all they could to have outgoing vessels warn the Korea, but as no message reached her she would not have made any attempt to show the warships a clean pair of heels had she met them—she has power enough to do so.

RUSSIAN SEIZURES OF CARDIFF COAL CARGOES. The question of recent captures of merchantmen by the Russian Vladivostok Squadron was discussed by the Cardiff Shipowners' Association. In the case of the steamship Allanton, which was seized notwithstanding that she was carrying coal to a neutral port, it was resolved that representation be made to the Foreign Office on the ground that the principle involved was of great importance to the shipping trade of Great Britain, which might be seriously affected if the seizures were allowed to pass unchallenged.

HONGKONG SANITARY BOARD

A meeting of the Sanitary Board was held yesterday afternoon in the Board Room. Dr. J. M. Atkinson, President, and there were also present Hon. P. N. Jones (Vice-President), Hon. A. W. Brown, Registrar-General, Major Sparks, R.A.M.C.; Mr. Lau Chi Pak, Mr. Fung Wa Chun; Mr. A. Ramjahn; Mr. H. E. Pollock, K.C.; Mr. E. A. Hewett; Dr. W. W. Pearce, Medical Officer of Health; Dr. H. A. Macfarlane, Assistant Medical Officer of Health; and the Secretary.

TYPHOID FEVER AND WELL WATER.
There was submitted correspondence relative to a case of typhoid fever at No. 9 Wongnei-chung, and report by Dr. Hunter on the bacteriological examination of three samples of water from a well on the premises.

The President stated that from the report of the Sanitary Surveyor it was seen that some of the drains at any rate were defective. It appeared from the report of the Bacteriologist that the well was contaminated, considerable sewage getting into it by some means or other, and as they knew a case of typhoid, the only thing to do was to move the closure of the well. He moved accordingly.

Mr. Pollock seconded, and the motion was agreed to.

BATHS FOR BETTER CLASSES.
Correspondence was laid on the table relative to the advisability of setting apart some baths for the use of the better classes and charging a small fee therefrom.

Inspector J. A. Lyon reported that the bulk of the baths at Wundai were used by the coolie class with the result that the better classes had been almost entirely driven away; and he directed the attention of the M.O.H. to the desirability of having some of the baths reserved or some alteration made in the existing system.

Dr. Pearce suggested that perhaps it might pay to set apart some baths for the use of the better class by charging a small fee. The Board might consider the matter.

Mr. Lau Chi Pak inquired:—What is meant by "better class"? I don't think the well-to-do Chinese will avail themselves of these baths, nor will the shopkeepers care to mix up with the coolies in the same building. Before going into the question seriously, let the Inspector submit the sketch of the proposed alteration.

Mr. A. Ramjahn:—I think instances should be quoted by the Inspector that the "better classes" have been almost entirely driven away, and how many of the better classes of Chinese have used the baths.

Mr. E. A. Hewett:—I very much doubt if any Chinese above the ordinary class will make use of a public bathhouse even if reserved for paying visitors. I should like to hear the views of the Chinese representatives on this subject.

Mr. Pollock said he agreed with Mr. Ramjahn and Mr. Lau Chi Pak that some information should be thrown upon this subject by the Inspector before they could act upon it.

The President remarked that the Chinese representatives did not appear to think that the better class of Chinese would use the baths. Therefore he did not think it would be of much use for the Board to recommend that a charge should be made. The baths were provided with the object of the better classes of Chinese using them. At present they were used by the coolie class. They could refer the matter back to the Inspector.

Mr. Pollock moved that this be done.

Mr. Lau Chi Pak seconded, and the motion was agreed to.

JARDINE, MATHESON AND CO.'S OFFICES.
Further correspondence re the application for permission to erect six water-closets and three urinals at 2, Pedder Street, was submitted.

The President said a letter had been sent to the architects asking for further information, and Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co. had replied that there would be shops on the ground floor, but it was not intended that Chinese should sleep on the premises. According to their original letter there would be 25 Europeans and Americans residing on the premises, and there might be 50. Blocks of offices were amongst the class of buildings which the committee considering the question of the adoption of water-closets recommended as being possible of execution. He moved that the application be granted under the usual conditions.

Mr. Ramjahn seconded, and the motion was agreed to.

BALCONY WINDOWS.

Application was made for permission to erect certain movable windows on the second floor verandahs of Nos. 16 and 17, Connaught Road. Mr. Hewett pointed out that these premises, although corner buildings now, were facing the Praya, and would not be corner buildings when the next block was built. He thought the whole matter should be discussed.

Mr. Fung Wa Chun said they had refused permission to put iron bars into verandahs. How then could they grant permission to erect outside windows to verandahs such as were proposed here?

Mr. Ramjahn held that movable windows would improve the sanitation of these premises. The premises had the sea in front extending two or three miles. In houses in the European reservation if there was a space of only five feet in front enclosed verandahs were allowed. The houses in question were not divided into rooms as houses in the reservation could be, so that circulation of air could more easily be effected. The windows in the verandah could be kept constantly open in good weather, and during inclement weather they could be closed and the house windows still left open. The Board should grant this application.

The President stated that the applicants wanted the windows for protection from the rain.

Mr. Pollock remarked that these were business premises and would not be used for sleeping purposes.

The Registrar-General said that verandahs were not supposed to be used for business purposes.

Mr. Pollock replied that he was speaking only of these second floor verandahs.

Dr. Pearce pointed out that in the reservation, houses stood on their own land. Section 139 referred to houses on Crown land. It was not the intention of the Government to make people a present of an extra 100 or 150 square feet of land.

Mr. Ramjahn agreed that verandahs either on Crown land or in the reservation could be enclosed. There were instances, which he could specify, in Cause Road where verandahs were being enclosed on Crown land.

Dr. Pearce said that he had just sent up to the Director of Public Works a list of houses in Nos. 3 and 4 Districts the verandahs in which had been enclosed without permission. Perhaps Mr. Ramjahn was referring to some of these.

Mr. Ramjahn stated that they were situated within a stone's throw of the European area and were European houses.

Mr. Hewett asked if the President's reading of the section was that these balconies could not be enclosed without permission of the Board?

The President:—Yes.

Mr. Hewett said he had understood Mr. Ramjahn to say that they could not refuse them.

Mr. Ramjahn disclaimed that intention, remarking that the permission of the Board must be obtained.

Mr. Pollock moved that the application be granted, as these floors were not going to be used for sleeping purposes.

Mr. Ramjahn seconded.

On a division the motion was defeated by six votes to three.

ANALYSIS OF WELL WATER.

Dr. Macfarlane, Assistant M.O.H., sent in for analysis a sample of water taken from a well situated between the kitchens of 15 and 16, Pak Sing Lane, Yauwadi.

The Government Analyst, Mr. A. C. Franklin, reported that he was of opinion that the water was so contaminated with impurities as to be unfit for drinking purposes and likely to prove injurious to health.

The Registrar-General and Mr. Hewett submitted their opinion that the well should be closed.

With regard to water from a well on the ground of Erane Bungalow, Kowloon, the Analyst reported that it was fit for potable purposes.

Reporting on a sample from a well in the rear of Ribeiro's Bungalow, Kowloon, the Analyst was of opinion that it was so contaminated with impurities as to be unfit for drinking purposes and likely to prove injurious to health.

It was agreed to close the two impure wells.

PUBLIC WATER SUPPLIES.
Mr. A. C. Franklin, Government Analyst, reported that the analyses of the water supplies of the Colony for July showed the water to be of excellent quality.

RAVENS.
During the fortnight ended 8th inst. 979 rats were destroyed in Hongkong and Kowloon. Of these, 57 were infected.

There was no other business of public interest.

NAVAL ITEMS.

V. GANCY IN THE DOCKYARD.
The latest number to hand of the Naval and Military Record says there is a vacancy for a third engine-fitter at Hongkong Dockyard, under usual conditions.

H.M.S. "TALBOT."
The Talbot, cruiser, on her arrival at Devonport from the China station, was to have been placed in the B Division of the Fleet Reserve.

PRIZE-FIRING.
Mr. Pretyman informed Mr. Bowles in the House of Commons on the 8th ult. that the prize-firing records were confidential, but it might be stated that the Centurion's last prize-firing was not as good as on a former occasion referred to in his reply on April 16th.

GOLD LACE AT NANKING.

The correspondent of the N. & M. Record, writing from Nanking, says that when the Commander-in-Chief (Sir Gerald Noel), accompanied by his staff and the captain of the squadron, paid an official visit to the Viceroy, Wei Quanzao, the Commander-in-Chief was received with a salute by a strong escort of Chinese troops, and 15 guns were also fired from a fort, the salutes being returned by the Glory. The presence of so many naval officers of high rank, in full-dress uniform, afforded John Chinaman an object lesson, and the interest taken in the event was amusing, and proved that the natives had evidently never seen such a gorgeous display of gold lace in Nanking.

THE TRAMWAYS: A GRIEVANCE.

A correspondent asks us to draw attention to what he considers to be a grievance in relation to the conditions attending the running of the trams. The other evening, he says, he boarded a car at Arsenal Street in company with several friends, and he desired to travel third-class. But he was told by the European in charge of the terminus that he could not travel third-class even although he wanted to. That is to say, the European is excluded from travelling in the Chinese compartment, yet the Chinese can travel in the first-class part of the car; or the Chinese have got a place reserved specially for themselves, but the Europeans have not. To a European who had forgotten his purse or who happened to have Chinese friends travelling third-class this rule, he thinks, must appear very hard. No such restrictions apply to the "Star Ferry" launches.

SUPREME COURT.

Thursday, 11th August.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

BEFORE HIS HONOUR T. SERCOMBE SMITH (JUDGE).

CLAIM FOR COMMISSION.

Lau Kam Sing sued Tsang Kaug for $265.00 being commission on the purchase by the defendant of 9,000 barrels of Portland cement Mr. E. J. Grist, of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, solicitors, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. H. Hursthouse, of Messrs. Denny and Bowley, solicitors, for the defendant.

Mr. Grist in his opening statement said that the plaintiff was a contractor carrying on business here. Some time in July, 1902, defendant entered into a contract with Dan Chee & Co. for the purchase of 9,000 barrels of cement. He was introduced by the complainant, and the complainant claimed from him in respect of that purchase commission at the rate of one-half per cent. on the price. There was no specific contract to pay this money, but there was the usual custom of the trade here, and the custom was that where a Chinese firm was introduced to a firm "carrying on business here through a complainant, and the complainant guaranteed the contract, he should be entitled to charge the purchaser a percentage on the purchase. That was the plaintiff's contention. He did not know whether the defendant admitted that he was induced to enter into this contract by the complainant.

Mr. Hursthouse:—No. Evidence was taken.

The defence set up by Mr. Hursthouse was that it was not a question of custom with Chinese in these matters, but whether it was in consonance with British law and reasonable in this case, as the plaintiff had nothing to do with this contract being entered into and did not even act as interpreter at the introduction. Owing to the absence through sickness of one of the witnesses for the defence, Mr. Wright, the hearing was adjourned.

SUIT FOR BOARD AND LODGING.

Mrs. Watling, of Zethland House, sued W. J. Hobbs for $87.25, money due for board and lodging. Mr. E. J. Grist, of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, solicitors, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. P. W. Goldring, solicitor, of Mr. John Hastings's office, was for the defence.

The plaintiff stated that defendant came to her house in April at $75 a month, along with another boarder. On 3rd or 4th May defendant was taken ill and went to hospital. He came back during the month to his old room. About the end of June he left.

Cross-examined:—She agreed with the defendant to accept $35 in full settlement of his account for May. During June defendant's old room was let to two Americans—to one for twelve days and to the other for a week.

Mr. Goldring stated that his client did not sleep out of the hospital until 6th July. During June he was allowed out of hospital every day, and went to Zethland House simply for tiffin with the friend with whom he had previously shared the room.

After further evidence, His Lordship said the question he had to decide was whether there was a continuation of defendant's contract for board and lodging. He felt unable to imply that there was a continuation of the contract so long as defendant was away in hospital or that there was any agreement express or implied that Mrs. Watling should keep this room or a proportion of it during the month of June. But he went there sometimes and signed cheques, and he must pay for what he got. Judgment for $24.25, of which $23.25 had been paid into Court, and costs.

TUNING A PIANO.
The Robinson Piano Co. sued J. Lambert, Superintendent engineer of the Dock Co., for $37.30, being balance of account due and $10 for two tunings of a piano. Mr. Goldring was for the plaintiffs; Mr. Grist for the defence.

Mr. Goldring stated that plaintiff was on the piano-tuning subscribers' list. At the end of two tunings he came and said he should not be on the list.

Mr. Grist said he might shorten the case by stating that the piano was bought on the instalment system, and part of the contract was that it should be kept in tune until the purchase money was paid, after which the tuning ceased. But twice after that date two tunings were done by the Robinson Co. although defendant had engaged somebody else to do it. There was no dispute as to the balance of the account which had been paid into Court.

His Lordship remarked that the question was whether this work was done when defendant was a subscriber or, if after he was a subscriber, it was done at his request. After hearing evidence His Lordship found that defendant was not entitled to pay the $10 charged for the two tunings. He gave judgment accordingly for defendant in respect of this sum, and judgment for plaintiff for the balance of account paid into Court.

WEATHER REPORT.
The Hongkong Observatory yesterday issued the following report:—

On the 10th at 5.17 p.m. The black cone and tall were ordered to be lowered.

On the 11th at 11.5 a.m. The barometer has risen in China, particularly on the south coast, and fallen over the Pacific to the E. of Formosa.

The typhoon has entered the coast to the N. of Hainan and is probably rapidly filling up. Another depression is indicated to the east of the Bashi Channel.

Fresh north-east winds will prevail in the Formosa Channel and moderate east to north-east winds in the northern part of the China S.S. Forecast:—Moderate east winds, showery, overcast.

POLICE COURT.

BEFORE MR. H. H. J. GOMPERTZ (ACTING POLICE MAGISTRATE).

ROBBERY AT WEST POINT.

Inspector Collett charged a man with larceny. An Indian constable had seen the defendant coming downstairs from No. 18, Queen's Street. The people in the house raised an alarm, saying the house had been entered, and a quantity of clothing and money stolen. The man, on being arrested, was found in possession of the missing property, and also clothing which the police identified as having been stolen from No. 2, Queen's Street. He had gained an entrance into the house by climbing up a storm-pipe and getting from one verandah to another.

Three months' imprisonment and six hours' stocks.

ANOTHER ROBBERY.
This morning, between three and four o'clock, a Chinese constable arrested a man for entering No. 10, Lai On Lane. He was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and six hours' stocks.

AN "ARTFUL DOGGER."
A man was charged with larceny from No. 47, Second Street. The complainant, a woman, gave evidence showing that the defendant had visited the house on the pretence, apparently, of seeing if there were any rooms to let. When he was leaving she noticed that his chest looked rather big, and this caused her to raise an alarm. It was discovered that the man had stolen a pair of trousers. He was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and six hours' stocks.

EXTRAORDINARY CREDULITY.
Mok Ching Chuen, doing business under the title of "Shut Chan Yu" (truth speaker), No. 50, Lyndhurst Terrace, was charged on remand with obtaining $468 by false pretences. Chief Detective Hanson presented, and Mr. O. D. Thomson, solicitor, appeared for the defence. He "squeezed" the money from Sung Kum Shai, a Chinese schoolmistress, the complainant. She gave defendant money to make gold pills to throw into the sea, so that the soldiers of the spirit-world would send treasure from the sea to her. It was necessary to give the spirits a great quantity of money preliminary to their sending complainant untold wealth; and finally when she had no more money left, defendant advised her to go to a loan association and borrow it.

The man was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and six hours' stocks.

THEFT OF WATCHES.

Two Chinamen were charged on remand with stealing watches from the premises of the Eastern Manufacturing Co., No. 17 Queen's Road Central. Mr. O. D. Thomson appeared on behalf of the second defendant.

Mr. A. Rombach's evidence has been published.

The defendants were committed to take their trial at the Criminal Sessions.

BEFORE MR. J. H. KEMP (SECOND POLICE MAGISTRATE).

CHAIR COOLIE FINED.

Mr. J. Barston, the solicitor, charged two chair bearers with leaving when he had told them to wait for him. Last Friday, complainant said, he came up to the Police Court in a chair, and told the bearers to wait—they did not do so. On Wednesday again the same thing, with the same coolies, happened.

One of the defendants seemed to be deaf and unable to understand. The other said that while he was waiting outside the Court for complainant a man came from the compound and got into the chair. On refusing to carry him, the man kicked him.

The latter defendant was fined $12.

LOTTERY TICKETS.

Inspector Dymond charged a man with dealing in Lok Wei lottery tickets. Mr. C. E. H. Beavis, solicitor, of Messrs. Wilkinson & Grist, appeared for the defence. A Chinese detective sergeant, it was stated, saw the defendant receiving money from a silvermith in Kennedy Street, Yauwadi. He then followed the man to another shop in Station Street, and afterwards arrested him. When defendant was taken to the police station $30 in small change was found on his person; Lok Wei and Pak Kap Pui lottery tickets were found at his house.

The case was remanded.

FACTORS OF BRITISH DEGENERACY.

Here are some extracts from an article by Dr. Candie, late of Hongkong, the subject of which is sketchily treated in to-day's leader.

A "TIED HOUSE" MILK SUPPLY.
Milk, the staple food of all young people, has become a luxury amongst the children of the agricultural labourer, and tea has taken its place. A double reason exists for the scarcity of milk in country cottages. In the first place the labourer can ill afford to buy it; and secondly there is difficulty in getting it at any price, as many of the farms nowadays are pledged to hand over their entire supply of milk to the town agent. The farms are in fact "tied" houses. We hear much of the hardships according to "tied" public houses, but the national evils likely to follow upon "tied" farms threaten national decline. Absence of milk in the diet of children means disease. Tea cannot take its place. Milk is at once food and drink for a child, and bread and tea are not equivalent substitutes, even with the occasional addition of potatoes and cabbage.

FOREIGN FOODS.

The effect exercised upon the national characteristics of a people by food brought from foreign shores and alien climates is a question that must be left to the psychologist; but even the casual observer a physical effect would seem probable. Tea from China, bacon from America, sugar from Jamaica, mutton from Australia, beef from America, milk from Switzerland, cheese from Holland or Canada, flour from Russia, and flour from anywhere except from England, may be excellent foods for compounding a cosmopolitan meal. But they cannot be said to leave much room for British products in the composition of the Englishman's frame.

Hongkong, 8th August, 1904.

It must be remembered that these foreign-grown foods are sold as plentifully in the grocer's and butcher's shops in the villages of England as in those of the largest towns; thus although our yeomen's limbs may be made in England, they are not nourished by English products, and it is therefore idle talk to call upon our yeomen nowadays to "show us here the mettle of your pasture." The staple food of a people should, according to Nature's plan, be the product of the region to which Nature has adapted them. British flour may not be of so white a colour as Hungarian flour, but the former, not the latter, is the natural flour for the people of England to consume. Oatmeal is the natural food of Scotland, and the recent defects in the physique of the Scottish people date from the day when the farm remnants of Scotland took to tea and bread instead of oatmeal and milk.

NOT "METTLE OF THE PASTURE."
No imported food can supplant the native products in efficiency, as far as the staple diet of the inhabitants of these islands is concerned. Weight for weight, bulk for bulk, no foreign food can equal our home-grown products, whether in cereals or meat, as regards quality. An inferior quality means inferiority in nourishing power, and, though inferior food may satisfy our hunger, it has a direct bearing upon our frames, our temperaments, our "mettle." Could the children of the poor in rural England get a sufficiency of milk, we might hope to produce men and women capable of thriving even upon imported foods.

TOWNS AND COUNTRY.
So far as the poorer classes in towns are concerned, it is the view that they have had better food during the last twenty years than the poorer classes in the country. The difference between town and country has come to be not a question of food or water, but one of air merely. The food in towns is now practically the same in quality as in the country, and the water supplied to towns is calculated to be of better quality than that obtained from the village pump or the shallow back-garden well. Of the bodily necessities we have the quality of the air alone to mark the difference. That this is defective in every large city, we have only to look at the children to be convinced of. No child under seven or eight years of age can remain continuously for more than eight to twelve weeks within a four-mile radius of Charing-cross without detriment to its health. Those who can afford it send their children out of town for a week or two at Christmas, for a week at Easter, again at Whitsuntide, and for a month or two in autumn. But there are some four millions of people in London who cannot afford to do this, and some two million who cannot even afford to go out of London for even one day.

THERE IS STILL HOPE.
This is no hopeless war we are engaged in. The people of this country are not hopelessly degenerate in physique. The physique of the middle and upper classes is improving; it is the poorer class that is degenerating. Yet, were the children of even weakly folk taken in hand at an early age, the national health would recover in a single generation. A race of people naturally reverts to its normal type; and it only requires one generation of healthy homes to bring about a reversion to the normal. The normal physique of the people of these islands has no superior, and it requires but the recognition of the fact that all is not lost with us to find ways and means for a remedy.

The C.P.R. steamer Empress of China arrived at Kobe at 6.33 p.m. on Tuesday, the 9th Aug., and left again at noon on Wednesday for Yokohama, where she was due to arrive at noon on Thursday, the 11th August.

The silk ex C.P.R. steamer Empress of Japan, which left Hongkong on the 13th July and Yokohama on the 22nd July, arrived in New York on the 10th August, thus making a transit of 28 days from Hongkong and 19 days from Yokohama.

The C.N. steamer Changsha, from Australian ports, leaves Manila on the 12th August, and is due here on the 15th August.

THE RECENT STORM.
The N. D. L. s.s. Anglia arrived from Bangkok yesterday morning (with a cargo of rice for Swatow), having experienced the typhoon 30 miles south of Gap Rock. The centre was to the southward of her. The vessel sustained damage in spite of a very heavy S.W. sea. The force of the wind experienced is given by the captain as "ten"—"twelve" is a hurricane. The Anglia calls here to fill her bunkers.

The Phranang, also from Bangkok (with 1,800 tons of rice for Messrs. Butterfield & Swire), experienced somewhat similar bad weather. Her lowest barometer reading was 29.50 inches.

The Taiwa (with 1,300 tons of rice for the East Asiatic Trading Co.) also met with bad weather, but nothing like a typhoon.

The U.S. transport Hyades experienced very bad weather between Manila and this port. She took seven days over a three-days passage. As far as Amoy strong south and S.E. winds were met with, then S.W. wind to port.

The H. A. s.s. Nubia, from Shanghai, did not experience bad weather. H.M.S. Rambler arrived from Amoy yesterday having met with strong S.W. winds with heavy rain. The Orin (from Kutchinotzu with 5,800 tons of coal for the M.B.K.) experienced dirty weather from Tarnabot to port.

INTIMATIONS

FEVERS

HOW TO SATISFY THE BURNING THIRST WITH BENEFICIAL RESULT.

The term fever is applied to a class of diseases in which there is a great disturbance of the nervous functions and more or less derangement of the functions of the various organs of the body. In addition we have disinclination for food, general languor, increased heat and frequent pulse.

All fevers arise from specific disease germs introduced into the system from without, or from some kind of local irritation such as inflammation of a part or organ. Whatever the cause, the effect is to change the character of the fluids of the body as to render them unfit for the nutrition of the tissues.

With the view of cooling the blood and carrying off the diseased fluids, acidulated effervescent drinks have long been used by the medical profession, and none more highly recommended for such purposes than Abbey's Effervescent Salt. Through its action on the digestive organs, it throws the disease germs into the intestinal canal, and carries off the diseased fluids, thus relieving the system of the poison which Nature is trying to throw off. At the same time it promotes the secretion of the healthy fluids, thus cooling the blood and imparting a soothing feeling to the overtaxed organs.

In all fevers Abbey's Salt can be given freely several times a day, and it will prove a delightfully pleasant cooling drink, satisfying the thirst, as well as an efficient remedy in reducing the temperature and eliminating the poison from the system.

Sold in two sizes by all Chemists or Stores, and by WATSON & CO., LTD., A. S. WATSON & CO., LTD., Hongkong.

REPORT OF AN EXPERT. The representative of Messrs. BRATBY and HINCHLIFFE, LIMITED, Aerated Water Engineers and Chemists, Manchester, visited our factory recently in the course of a tour amongst Eastern Aerated Water Makers, and was greatly surprised at the compactness of our factory and also the methodical way in which everything pertaining to the making of Aerated Waters was carried out. He also expressed himself strongly on the absolute cleanliness of our whole establishment, which he assured us was equal to any he had yet visited and superior to a great many. He also reported that the quality of our goods was of a first-class nature, and they showed that scrupulous care was exercised in the course of their manufacture.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

IS INTELLECTUALITY A DISEASE—MAGNETS WITHOUT IRON—ALCHEMY REVIVED—CAUSES OF RAIN—ENGINE IRREGULARITY MADE VISIBLE—SERUM CURE FOR HAY FEVER—SELF-LUBRICATING METAL—POISONING BY EGGS—TEMPERATURE WITHOUT CHANGE.

The influence of health upon mental activity has been receiving attention from Prof. Robert MacDougall, of New York. From the traits of five American men of science, as estimated by twelve independent judges, he infers that executive ability, with breadth and sanity of mind, vary directly with physical health, but is inclined to suspect that general mental efficiency is promoted by conditions of unround health. The central nervous system is perhaps over-developed at the expense of the rest of the body. Original mental endowment, quickness and clearness of grasp appear to be independent of the health. The virtues of will—energy, courage, capacity for leadership—fall off rapidly with extreme weakness, but are often highly developed in medium health. Reasonableness, unselfishness and the like appear to belong neither to the strong nor to the frail or nervously unstable. Emotional sensibility and refinement reach a maximum in the delicate and a minimum in the strong.

Magnetizable alloys from practically non-magnetic elements is the interesting and surprising report of F. Hender. An alloy of copper with 25.5 per cent. of manganese and 14.6 per cent. of aluminium gave the best results, and showed strong susceptibility to magnetization, which was increased by boiling in alcohol for two days. With the aluminium reduced to 3.6 per cent. the alloy ceased to be magnetic. This in place of the aluminium had a similar effect, and arsenic, antimony, bismuth and boron also yielded magnetizable alloys.

The erstwhile ridiculed idea of the transmutation of the elements is likely to become a subject of experiment by sober twentieth century chemists. Sir Wm. Ramsay suggests that the immense energy of radium may be made to cause constructive chemical change, such, for example, as that of bromine into iodine.

The chief causes of rain are stated by the Hon. F. A. Rolfe Russell to be only four, and in a paper to the Royal Meteorological Society he describes the following: (1) The forced ascent of moist air by the slopes of mountains. (2) A mass of air invading rather suddenly another mass moving from an opposite direction and maintaining its dew below the opposing current which it displaces. (3) The ascent of more or less moist air through heavier and colder air to a height where condensation of vapour takes place, increased radiation of heat towards space, and often electrical developments producing further condensation. Increase of temperature and renewed ascent with the same results. (4) The mixture of currents of air from different directions.

A novel device for making visible the variability in the revolutions of an engine has been brought out by Dr. Barkitz, an Austrian, and consists of a heavy disc or fly wheel mounted loosely on the engine shaft and driven by the latter through an elastic magnetic coupling, no springs being used. An arm rigidly fixed to the shaft outside the fly-wheel carries two solenoids, the cores of which are fixed to the fly-wheel and can have limited vibration. A system of levers connecting the fly-wheel and the arm lifts a small mirror, and this reflects a ray of light upon a screen. With absolutely steady running the light describes a circle, any deviation showing the extent and character of the speed variation.

Serum obtained from animals inoculated with the pollen toxin of golden-rod has been experimented with as a remedy for hay-fever, and a report of ten well-developed cases shows gratifying results in the treatment of nine. The application of the serum to the nose relieves hay-asthma, but has no effect upon similar conditions due to other complaints.

Mixtures of zinc and aluminium in various proportions have yielded nine different well-defined alloys.

A new German anti-friction metal, also recommended for dynamo-brushes, consists of copper intersected with particles of graphite. The material is produced by sprinkling a plate with graphite and dipping into an electrolytic bath until a deposit of copper covers the graphite, then withdrawing, sprinkling again with graphite, and re-introducing into the bath, the operations being continued until the required diameter is reached. Friction on the alloy produced in this way slowly releases the particles of graphite, which then act as a lubricant.

Poisoning by white of egg has been reported by J. R. Clemons in a boy of fourteen months. The addition of the white of an egg to his usual milk diet caused him to be suddenly seized with an attack of nettle-rash, with greatly swollen face and ears, and alarming collapse. Injections of strychnine seemed to rescue him from death. A repetition of the milk and egg meal brought a similar attack a few days later; a third attack followed the eating of custard, and after eating gingerbread in which two eggs had been used the child's feet became extremely swollen and covered with purple spots.

An even temperature is a chief requisite for magnetic observations. A week's record at Cheltenham Observatory showed a range inside of only about one degree, but outside the range had been about fifty degrees. Multiple walls packed with thick layers of dry sawdust are the means taken to secure this heat insulation.

Great quantities of sawdust are necessary, the Sitka Observatory having used 3,000 sacks.

An invasion by ants of an office at Eversley, England, was lately resisted by spreading about pieces of paper soaked in peppermint oil. The ants disappeared within half an hour, and have not returned.

HAMMERS AND EGGS.

I have seen hammers, weighing many tons each and operated by steam, that would crack an egg without crushing it, and yet at one blow smash a lump of iron as big as your head as it hit and then as this sheet of paper. There are so small such hammers at Eversley, in England, where the German Emperor's big guns are made, and at Armstrong's foundry, by the river Tyne, in England.

I have looked at these hammers with admiration and awe. They are things to take one's hat off to. Oh, to have the power of a thunder-bolt combined with muscular control that would enable me to take a moth between my thumb and finger without brushing the flour from its wings! And health, too, of course, health which should never, since I began to breathe, have been modified by an ache, a weakness or any physical suggestion that this condition would ever end.

But there! if wishes were horses beggars might ride.

Whether the Creator so intended it I cannot say, but every human life falls short of the ideal.

Here is an extract from a letter written by Mrs. H. C. Oosthuizen, who lives at Stand 875, Richt Street, Burgersdorp, Transvaal, on April 14 of this year, 1904, in which she tells you exactly how she suffered and what the chief symptoms were. If you are suffering from pains in the stomach, or kidneys, or from rheumatism, or have any of the symptoms she describes, it would be well for you to act on the recommendation she gives when she tells you what cured her. She says: "For nearly fifteen years I suffered from kidney complaint. I was hardly ever free from rheumatism, pains and backache. I became so ill at last that while in the Women's Camp at Bloemfontein, during the war, I was taken into hospital and there remained for over two months. The treatment given me by the hospital doctors gave temporary relief and I was discharged from hospital. The rough conditions under which we were living at the time away from all home comforts did not tend toward building up my already shattered state of health. Having some friends in the camp who had been cured by Mother Seigel's Syrup, I visited them and from them heard the wonders of that remedy. I purchased two bottles and began to feel my health improve. I continued using the Syrup until I was completely cured."

There is no mistaking that story—'tis a plain and simple one. But perhaps you would like to know more about the wonderful curative effects of this remarkable medicine in another case—this time the patient being a man. If so, read the accompanying extract from a letter written on March 27th, this year, 1904, by Mr. X. X. X. of the Malay Station, Johannesburg. He says: "For nine years I suffered from severe pains in the vicinity of the kidneys, lost my appetite completely, and could only take milk and beef tea; anything more substantial would not remain in the stomach. I became so ill that I was forced to take to my bed. A doctor treated me for almost two months, but without success. On arriving at Cape Town at the outbreak of hostilities, a Malay friend told me of the wonder qualities of Mother Seigel's Syrup. One bottle relieved me, and now I am never without a bottle in my house."

Only one bottle, he says, cured him, but he has such confidence in the remedy that he keeps it always handy. He can eat and enjoy and digest his food now. Without fire, no heat. Without digested food, no strength. That's Nature's law. Relief and cure for digestive disorders reside in Mother Seigel's Syrup. Cases on which excellent doctors have looked in despair are daily cured by it, and it is constantly adding to the working strength and happiness of the world.
